

We've been before; why should we go again?

Your marriage and family have changed since you last attended a Weekend to Remember. Come back and enjoy new speakers and fresh insights you may have missed at your first conference, time to relate to each other on a deeper level, and another exciting date night. You can never invest too much in the most important relationship on earth... your marriage. We encourage you to take time to read through the FAQs even if you've previously been to a Weekend to Remember conference. A solid understanding of the Weekend to Remember will help you clearly answer any questions.

We have a great marriage. Why should we go?

Congratulations! This weekend is designed to heighten even the best of marriages. Time and time again we hear of couples with great relationships who have attended the Weekend to Remember and say that it took their marriage to another level of oneness and intimacy. It also serves as a great reminder that you are God's gift to each other.

Will I have to engage in group discussion?

There are no group settings in which you would be asked to comment on the conference content or your relationship.

What are the ages of couples who come?

Couples of all ages and years married attend the conference.

Can we bring children?

FamilyLife cares deeply about children. However, to keep your weekend free of distractions and as a courtesy to other participants, children (including nursing infants) are not allowed in any session. FamilyLife is unable to provide child care during the conference.

What expenses should I plan on for the weekend?

Couples should plan to pay for the conference registration fee and meals. You have the option of staying in the hotel for the weekend, but the hotel accommodations and meals are not included with the registration fee. Couples will often bring something to eat for breakfast to save some dollars. The rooms normally have coffee makers.

Should I stay in the hotel?

Staying in the hotel frees you from the distractions of home and the routine of familiar surroundings. It allows you to focus on your marriage. It also provides a private place to work on the projects and discuss them throughout the weekend. To help reduce your expenses, we have requested a special rate for guests who stay in the hotel in which we host the conference. Simply mention "FamilyLife" when scheduling your accommodations. If you are unable to stay at the hotel and you have children at home, perhaps the children could go to a friend's for the weekend. That will allow you to spend more time together when you go home.

Do I have to stay in the hotel?

No – but you greatly enhance your weekend and free yourself from everyday distractions by staying in the conference hotel. Treat yourselves to a private room for a more relaxing atmosphere that enables you to focus only on each other. Weekend to Remember conference guests receive a special discounted room rate. Simply quote “FamilyLife” when booking with the hotel we have secured arrangements with.

If I attend a marriage conference, does that mean my marriage is in trouble?

No, it means you value your marriage and want to see it grow beyond where it is now!

I have been divorced. Will I feel uncomfortable?

No, we understand that divorce is a reality. We want to provide tools to make your current marriage relationship a strong, healthy, lasting one.

Are there additional costs associated with the weekend?

Your registration fee does not cover accommodations or meals. In addition, there may be parking charges and/or resort fees at the hotel. You may also choose to purchase resources during the weekend.

What if I register and for some reason can't come? Can I get a refund?

If you cannot attend, you have the opportunity to transfer your registration to another conference or to another couple as a ministry opportunity—at no cost. However, if you are requesting a refund, the registration fee is refundable minus a $25 per person processing fee. Requests for transfer or refund must be received no later than 14 days after the conference you are registered to attend. For assistance with registration, cancellation, or a change in plans, call 1-800-247-3180.

If we have more than one event in our area, can we register people for various events?

Are scholarships available?
